HONOR MEN OF FORMER YEARS.

By order of the Faculty, passed 1859, the five students in each graduating class ascertained to stand highest, on an examination of the records of their conduct and scholarship during their whole course of four years, were to receive testimonials, have their names recorded in the annual catalogues, and to be styled "Honor Men."

By the Revised Statutes, as adopted by the Trustees in 1865, it was provided that this publication should embrace those, and only those, who stand in the "First Class of Honor" in the Graduating Class.

HONOR MEN OF FORMER YEARS.

By order of the Faculty, passed 1859, the five students in each graduating class ascertained to stand highest, on an examination of the records of their conduct and scholarship during their whole course of four years, were to receive testimonials, have their names recorded in the annual catalogues, and to be styled "Honor Men."

By the Revised Statutes, as adopted by the Trustees in 1865, it was provided that this publication should embrace those, and only those, who stand in the "First Class of Honor" in the Graduating Class.

HONOR MEN OF FORMER YEARS.

By order of the Faculty, passed 1859, the five students in each graduating class ascertained to stand highest, on an examination of the records of their conduct and scholarship during their whole course of four years, were to receive testimonials, have their names recorded in the annual catalogues, and to be styled "Honor Men."

* By the Revised Statutes of 1865 it was provided that, in the annual catalogue next following the graduation of any class, there should be published the names embraced in its several classes of honor, arranged in the order of merit within each class; and that in subsequent catalogues the names of those in the first class of honor should be retained, and should continue to be annually published.
